

THE POWER OF A GODLY INFLUENCE

II Chronicles 24:1-27

Introduction:

1. Have you ever noticed how others characterize both you and society?
2. Several things reveal what manner of person we are.
3. We are known by the character of our friends and the company we keep.
4. We are also known by those who pose as our enemies.
5. “Birds of a feather flock together” is a statement made by some senior adults.
6. The Bible gives us this warning in I Corinthians 15:33 – Be not deceived evil company corrupts good morals.
7. Proverbs 13:20 – He that walks with wise men shall be wise, but a companion of fools shall be destroyed.
8. In our study of Joash, we see clearly the biblical example of the influence of good and evil company.

  - A. She ruled as a queen for 6 years and promoted Baal worship in Judah and Israel.
  - B. Her marriage was a political one that brought awful spiritual pain.
  - C. Her father was Ahab, king of Israel, and her mother was wicked Jezebel.

V. (vv. 20-22) JOASH THEN REJECTED THE THINGS OF GOD.

1. (v. 20) The Spirit of God then came upon Zechariah, Jehoiada’s son, and he challenged Joash and the leadership to return to God.

VI. (vv. 23-24) JOASH AND JUDAH LOST THEIR RICHES.

2. (vv. 26-27) They conspired against Joash, but they credited him with repairing the house of God.
3. (v. 27) Amaziah, Joash’s son, was then appointed to take his place.

Conclusion:

1. Just because we start well doesn’t automatically mean that we will end well.
2. A good ending comes as the result of a lifetime of godly choices.
